It's Christmas Tree Permit Season!

Roseburg, Ore. – Christmas tree permits will be available from the Bureau of Land Management's Roseburg District Office from November 21 through December 23, 2011. The cost for a single tree up to 12 feet high is $5.00. There is a limit of three trees per household. No commercial permits will be issued.

The permit tag authorizes purchasers to cut their own tree(s) on a self-serve basis in either the Swiftwater or South River Resource Areas. Permits and maps are available at the Roseburg BLM Office, located at 777 N.W. Garden Valley Blvd. Office hours are from 7:45 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Other locations are Myrtle Creek City Hall, Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., and the U.S. Forest Service Office in Glide (North Umpqua Ranger District) from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

On weekends, permits will be available both Saturdays and Sundays at the Colliding Rivers Visitor Center in Glide, from November 28 through December 20, from 8:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

The BLM manages more land – 245 million surface acres – than any other Federal agency. This land, known as the National System of Public Lands, is primarily located in 12 Western States, including Alaska. The Bureau, with a budget of about $1 billion, also administers 700 million acres of sub-surface mineral estate throughout the nation. The BLM's multiple-use mission is to sustain the health and productivity of the public lands for the use and enjoyment of present and future generations. The Bureau accomplishes this by managing such activities as outdoor recreation, livestock grazing, mineral development, and energy production, and by conserving natural, historical, cultural, and other resources on public lands.
